CARROLL UNIVERSITY

Graduate Literacy Programs Cohort Meeting Dates
2027-2028

Reading Teacher License, Reading Specialist, and Master of Education in Literacy Programs

Carroll University's Graduate Literacy Programs are designed for educators seeking deep expertise in evidence-based literacy instruction, reading related disabilities, and literacy leadership. Educators may choose a 10-month license-only or combine programs to earn a Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Literacy degree in 22 months.

Students in the Reading Teacher license, Reading Specialist license, or Master of Education in Literacy programs will meet on the Carroll University campus four weekends per semester. Weekend classes are on Fridays from 5-9pm and Saturdays 8am-12pm.
